

bullsheet@denison.edu | denisonbullsheet.com | @DUBullsheet

The Bullsheet, a forum for news, humor, and community dialogue, is funded by DEGA and is printed each day that classes are in session. Submissions must be sent before 6:30pm for next day submission via e-mail to: bullsheet@denison.edu. Submissions herein solely reflect the opinions of the authors. We do not accept anonymous submissions, so please remember to include a full name or Slayter Box number.

Edited last night by: Jax and her trailmix

Delivered this morning by: Jack
vol. LXIII/ no. 29/ October 9, 2019

MID-SEMESTER REDOCORATING IDEAS

If you're anything like me, you get your room decently set up at the beginning of the semester, but neglect to bring up posters from last year or other various non-essential decorative items that make the necessary utilitarian sterility of the average dorm room slightly less depressing. Around this time of the semester, some of the blank, undecorated spaces of my room have begun to get to me, and as we live in a culture built on excessive mass-consumption of unnecessary products, why not treat yourself to a host of cute but useless items, such as:

Fake fruit arrangements: So bright and colorful you almost forget it's made entirely of plastic, serves no useful purpose and completely negates the use of any surface it occupies!

n.b.: If you want to go for a more autumnal vibe, fake pumpkins are an option too!

If continuing to junk up the environment with plastics isn't to your taste, why not be considerate of the environment with this decoration idea instead?

HUMOR

Continued on back...

PHOTOS OF DOGS IN HALLOWEEN COSTUMES THAT LOOKING AT CONSTITUTE ACTS OF RADICAL SELF CARE

Collecting and displaying glass bottles has come into fashion as of late, and frankly, they do make great containers for flower arrangements or, if you have ones with stoppers, can be used to hold items or even re-used for more beverages. Just take care not to start hoarding every glass fanta bottle you come across, with the mindset that “they’re gonna be worth something one day, I promise”!

If you’ve got your basic decor covered, but the arid, lifeless quality of your room’s walls are making you begin to feel like the main character in “The Yellow Wallpaper”, might I suggest something a little different than begrudgingly buying more posters - whv not trv clocks?

There are a grand a variety of makes out there, making it easy to have a dorm room unlike any other should you tailor your collection to your tastes. If you display them in bulk, you can not only make plenty of low-tier puns and dad jokes about your decorating habits, but you’ll never have an excuse to be late to a class again! Having this much time to kill would surely be helpful for students who experience anxiety, too.

Hopefully some of these suggestions helped those of you debating how to brighten up your bog-standard rooms, and if none of those appeal to you... well, there’s always posters.

-Elizabeth Arterberry,
Junior Writer & One-Star Reviewed Interior Decorator

HUMOR

De-Stress Fest
October 10, 2019
5:00 – 7:00 p.m.

Library

Come enjoy snacks, hot chocolate, a chair massage, Reiki, giveaways, a craft, and visit with therapy dogs

Questions Contact Heather Borland Coordinator Health and Wellness Education-borlandh@duke.edu

Sponsored by: The Wellness Center –Library-ARC and Office of Gender and Sexuality

TAKE BACK THE NIGHT

Join SHARE for Sexual Respect Month
A march and candlelight vigil to support and empower survivors of sexual harassment and assault with acapella performances

Thursday, October 10
March starts at 6:00pm, East Quad Steps
Vigil at 6:30pm, Slayter Flagpole

Staff “decor style” Box

- Jax “ecclectic modern” Preyer, Managing Editor
- Isabella “ecclectic traditional” Puccini, Senior Editor
- Sophia “seashell-themed bathrooms” Menconi, Senior Editor
- James “baroque” Whitney, Sophomore Editor
- Zach “idk, blue?” Correia, Head Writer
- Jay “plaid errythang” Huff, Senior Writer
- Charlie “less is more” Schweiger, Junior Writer
- Elizabeth “clocks, apparently” Arterberry, Junior Writer
- Katie “Midwestern chic” Kerrigan, Junior Writer
- Jack “” May, Sophomore Writer

Jax is going to keep picking at the office trailmix until all that’s left are raisins and we have no choice but to kill her