ARCHITECTURAL HIERARCHY ACCORDING TO WILLIAM (NOT BUGG)

Architects based on how cool their names are, as well as several other arbitrary factors, such as pyramids, comedic placement, and their proximity to Illinois.

1. Friedensreich Regentag Dunkelbunt Hundertwasser. This man—whose name means “Peaceful empire rainy day darkly-colorful hundred water” (or at least that’s what my mediocre German skills translate it as)—is an absolute legend. This is obviously the best name of all time. Also, he doesn’t believe in straight lines, so that’s fun.
2. Rem Koolhaas. Pretty cool name if you ask me. Need to improve your computer’s performance so it can render architectural designs? Download more REM. You want him to build a new residence? He’ll design a Koolhaas.
3. Sheila Sri Prakash. Pra-Cash money more like. She was also the first woman to start an architectural firm in India. So mad props to that.
4. Jeanne Gang. Leader of the Studio Gang. That’s Gang, of the Gang Gang, to you. Also, she is from Illinois! She’s gonna build the new ORD Terminal! Yay Illinois! (Honestly, I don’t even like Illinois all that much, but hey, free points)
5. Frank Lloyd Wright. This dude’s name is too close to Andrew Lloyd Weber, who is obviously the better Lloyd. 0/10 for not being Andrew Lloyd Weber. +2 points for being from Illinois.
6. Eero Saarinen. You gotta love the Fins. They have some mighty fine names. 3/10 points for building an inverse catenary curve. -2 points for not building it in Illinois.
7. I. M. Pei. Who are you? I. M. Pei. It’s like if Will.i.am was an architect, and an absolute mad-lad at that. Who gave you permission to put a big glass pyramid in the middle of the Louvre courtyard, you absolute legend, you. +12 points for Pyramids.
8. Hemiunu. (that’s pronounced ½ for all you right brain folks). Get it? Because its Hemi-Uno. Half-one, lol. Real talk though, this dude designed the Pyramids at Giza (or at least that’s what google tells me) +12 points for Pyramids. +3 points for not being from Illinois.
9. Aliens. We all know google lies. +12 points for pyramids. +3 points for being from Illinois. -2 points for not building the pyramids in Illinois.
10. Mississippian native peoples. I’m a simple man, all I want are pyramids, Illinois, and rad names. These legends had all three. If you have time visit the Underwater Panther Alligator Effigy Mound—it’s pretty close to campus.

ARCHITECTURAL DIGEST WHOMST??

JOSH POE: THE NEXT BACHELOR??

I was recently talking with a friend of mine about being single and we came to the conclusion that it is because I am too fun. This is why I, Josh Poe, would be the perfect next main character on ABC’s the bachelor. If you don’t know this show let me be the first to tell you it changes lives, and is a testament to our time. Now, I know the bachelors are usually model type hot, which I may not really be, but these guys are literally the most boring people in the world. I mean the dates they go on are usually very boring because that is the stuff they do, like look at this season of the Bachelor first episode Pilot Peter takes the girl to flight training and the girls are like “If I can’t be strong through this how can I be with him for good.” Now just take that date but put all the girls with a less hot guy and put them in a laser tag arena. Then, at the rose ceremony I would request for me to have aux of the house so during all rose ceremonies I could play “Meet Me Half-way” by the Black Eyed Peas. I would be a real viewers dream cause say a girl says something insane or does something crazy I would give a look to a camera and make a really funny face. I would also tell so many jokes and keep very light at theelorhouse and since I am always hungry I would always be eating on the date and wherever, like could you imagine at the rose ceremony I am just absolutely munching on a cookie... that’s hilarious. I would also give bonus points to those girls who, if I chose, a 1 on 1 on how much star wars extended lore they know, or how many random baseball players from the early 2000s they can name. And honestly, for those 1 on 1s, I would choose the most wild and hilarious things, like most of them are these super romantic reclusive places. For mine, like one, I would take them to a lego store. Another we go to see Rosewell, New Mexico, cause honestly I have been meaning to go and no time like if ABC will pay for it ya know? And could you imagine when they come to meet my family and because I don’t like to talk about my dating life with my family, they don’t know I am on this show so these like 3 random girls show up to my house. I would probably show them my mini basketball hoop and my favorite lego sets. All I am saying is my season of the bachelor would be mostly the same but it would almost be as if it was a comedy and not drama. So, please ABC hire me. I’m not that hot but I am a million times more fun than these other guys like really Peter? Never heard one joke from that guy.....Not ONE.
