FREE THE HIMALAYAS!

I am the Thorax, I speak for the Bees

These are the Himalayas. They are being oppressed. We must save them.
How can you save this beautiful mountain range from being oppressed?
Easy, eat your fruits and vegetables. They are good for you.
Here comes the Airplane!

Thanos wants to save the Himalayas, so he eats his veggies. YUM.
But wait, what's this? A bee?

Barry B. Benson is the fastest man alive. He says to eat Dairy.
A balanced diet is important to save the Himalayas.

-William Kelsey, Newbie

Editor's Note: It is Bullsheet policy to publish any submission from the Denison Community that is not a personal attack nor illegal for us to print. Unfortunately, the above article passes both of those requirements. I would like to apologize for any mental or physical pain this article has or will cause you. An investigation has also been launched to find out what Will was on when he wrote this.

SEND YOUR COVID-19 STORY TO THE ARCHIVES

The University Archives & Special Collections is working on a special project to collect files that document your experiences during the COVID-19 pandemic. Just like we've been looking back at how the world endured pandemics through the last century; future generations will be looking at how the Denison community has been doing, how we have coped, how we have connected, and how we have lived day to day through the COVID-19 pandemic. But, these future scholars can't do that if we don't start keeping a record now.

This is where we need your help. We want to create an archival collection that documents the Denison community's experiences. If you've been keeping a diary or journal, writing essays, taking pictures, making videos, or creating art relating to the pandemic, please consider donating these to the Denison Archives. If you haven't created anything, but would like to contribute to the project, let us know and we do an oral history-type interview. Basically, if something reflects on your experience of COVID-19, we want to include it in our collection.

To make a submission, visit <https://bit.ly/myduCOVID19story>. You can make as many submissions as you like. You'll be asked for some basic information, such as your name, how you're affiliated with Denison University, a description of what you're submitting, and your permission to assign a Creative Commons license agreement. Then, you'll be able to upload your file.

If you have any questions, you can email archives@denison.edu. We really want to be able to tell our community's story to future Denisonians and I hope that you'll consider joining our project. Please, stay safe, be well, and keep connecting with each other.
