M&M CHARACTER RESULTS

If you answered mostly A's you're the RED M&M

Congrats, you're a dick and a smart ass! You like to be in charge of everything, but you're actually a shit leader. You're the type of person to ask questions in class that you think sound really intellectual, but in reality everyone (including the professor) is rolling their eyes. You brag about being a p*ssy destroyer, but the truths out...you're a bottom (and not even a power bottom :/).

If you answered mostly B's you're the YELLOW M&M

How do I put this nicely...there's not a lot going on behind that cute little shell of yours. You're that one friend in the group that's happens to be at everything but never really contributes anything meaningful to the conversations. When people talk about you the phrase "well, at least they're pretty..." is thrown around a lot. You're super sweet though, so you'll probably end up being someone's trophy spouse and live a relatively good life.

If you answered mostly B's you're the ORANGE M&M

Listen, I know you shouldn't self diagnose, but you desperately need some Prozac. You are so high strung that you have a permanent stress headache. People actively avoid you so they don't have to listen to your freak out about the same things on repeat. You're friends have recommended that you start smoking weed, but as soon as you went on a rant about it being a gateway drug they stopped trying to help. Just take a deep breath, honey

If you answered mostly B's you're the GREEN M&M

Wearing a whale tail every once in a while doesn't make you the "slut" that you like to tell everyone you are. You're ego is way bigger than your brain. You think your bad attitude is sexy, but really you just come off as a bitch. You have really bad taste in love interests. People talk shit about your significant other behind your back, but say that you guys are "goals" to your face. Your popular but not well liked...
