

bullsheet@denison.edu | denisonbullsheet.com | @DUBullsheet

The Bullsheet, a forum for news, humor, and community dialogue, is funded by DCGA and is printed each day that classes are in session. Submissions must be sent before our editors shamble into the office for next day submission via e-mail to: bullsheet@denison.edu. Submissions herein solely reflect the opinions of the authors.

Edited last night by: Charlie
Delivered this morning by: The forces of evil
vol. LXVII/ no. 12 /September 8, 2020

WHAT YOUR FAVORITE SONG FROM 'DREAMLAND' SAYS ABOUT YOU

In honor of Dreamland being released one month ago today, the day I edit this sheet, and since last week's 'folklore' article was a total hit, I thought that I'd do another one o' these!!! I'm back at it again making assumptions and generalizations based off of song lyrics and melodies!! I want to say that this album is great. Zaba and How to Be a Human Being may still have my heart, but that's only because I have more memories associated with those albums. So give me a few years, and I can let you know for certain which of the Glass Animals albums is, in the most objective way possible, the best. Again, I have had no one ask me to make this list, so you're welcome! (Disclaimer: this list will not be including the home movie interludes!)

Dreamland: This song is so dreamy and delightful to listen to, and if this is your favorite song, then you are definitely a chiller and you probably smoke a lot of weed.

Tangerine: The most upbeat song of the album for the most upbeat person of your friend group. You probably have a caffeine (or ritalin) addiction, but that's ok because this song will always be there for you.

Hot Sugar: This is also a very dreamy and chill song, and I would also imagine that the person whose favorite song this is, smokes a lot of weed, but less so than the person whose favorite song is Dreamland. The visuals in this song make for a great time ;)

Space Ghost Coast to Coast: This song reminds me more of old Glass Animals and I quite like it. If this song is your favorite of this album, You probably like 'How to be a Human Being' more than 'Dreamland.'

Tokyo Drifting: You probably like hip-hop more than alt music, and this song very beautifully combines both genres. You also probably like to go for drives, but you go like 95 mph in a 70 on the highway.

Melon and the Coconut: You are probably addicted to your ADD medication and this song is perfect for that comedown that you dreadfully face at the end of each day. Or you just enjoy sad music, but in a good way, ya know?

Your Love: You are also probably addicted to your ADD medication, but this song is for the high, not the comedown.

Waterfalls Coming Out Your Mouth: You are probably addicted to nicotine in some form, and you definitely binge drink. I can't explain why, but that's the vibe I get.

It's All So Incredibly Loud: This is no one's favorite song. If it just so happens to be yours, then reach out to me at schwei_c1@denison.edu. I say this with confidence, as 'Heat Waves' was released before this song, and I was expecting another hype single, but this let me down, because I didn't know it was the interlude. Going from setting high expectations with 'Heat Waves' to this was... interesting.

Domestic Bliss: You probably struggle with clinical depression.

Heat Waves: You have impeccable taste and you long for the hot summer days spent outside, sunbathing and drinking sparkling water with lemon. You are definitely a homie.

Helium: You are probably into drugs, but none of the drugs previously mentioned. You like the good stuff. You know what's up. ;)

And that concludes another episode of "random Bullsheet person psychoanalyzes me." You're welcome!! <33 I hope you love this album as much as I did, or else we can't be friends!

-Charlie Schweiger, Managing Editor

EVEN MORE DISORIENTATION

I am out of content and trying to finish this sheet in the while I sit next to a very large window as sirens are blaring outside so these last few first-years at the end of the alphabet will get some extra attention today :)

Dagmawi Zerihun- really wants that dinner with Weinberg, but doesn't want to commit to living with someone for four whole years.

Samuel Zewde- came to college to party, but is now realizing that they've made a grave mistake.

Petter Zhai- HATES babies.

Sarah Zhang- thinks that Whit's is overrated...

Fanghan Zhao- wants the "Dangerous Woman" lyrics as a sleeve tattoo.

Henry Zheng- ships Woody and Buzz, but only in the third movie.

Kai Zheng- still doesn't know their Slayer box combo.

Sophia Zheng- is still feeling the effects of Slayer coffee.

Qitian Zhu- is the next Jojo Siwa. Just wait.

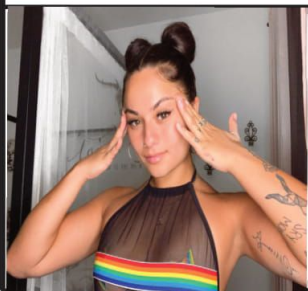

Cameron Ziegenfus- Could beat any Dreamworks character in a fight.

Ali Ziegler-Khan- misses the old Taylor Swift tbh.

Ella Zimmerman- knows that Joe&Mimi's > Donato's.

AND THAT CONCLUDES FRESHMAN DISORIENTATION!!! I HOPE EVERYONE IS SETTling INTO COLLEGE NICELY <3 WELCOME TO DENISON!!

*See you next year...
XOXO... -The Staff*

Staff "27 Club member" Box

Charlie "Amy Winehouse" Schweiger, Managing Editor
James "Santana" Whitney, Junior Editor
Jack "Kurt Cobain" May, Junior Editor
Betsy "Janis Joplin" Wagner, Sophomore Editor
Katie "Jim Morrison" Kerrigan, Head Writer
Elizabeth "Jimi Hendrix" Arterberry, Senior Writer
JoSh "Brian Jones" Po3, Senior Writer
Maggie "Anton Yelchin" Bell, Junior Writer
Blythe "Lily Tembo" Dahlem, Sophomore Writer
Ellie "Jeremy Ward" Schrader, Sophomore Writer
William "Jade Goody" Kelsey, Sophomore Writer
Emma "Sean Patrick" Rutherford, Sophomore Writer

my COVID test kinda felt good... lowkey
tho lowkey...