CRIME REPORT

Here’s the rest of ‘em. These are all crimes, policy violations, reports of property damage, and other heinous stuff from 9/12 to 10/10. Many duplicate logs are combined; a student who had three unique charges of drug trafficking, illegal possession of a crossbow, and copying someone else’s calculus homework all at the same time would have that reported in the same little blurb. Many of the reports here are edited to protect the privacy of our fellow Denisonians, some reports bore the hell out of me and are omitted, and others are thrown out since they aren’t actually crimes and also aren’t interesting (campus safety responding to a faulty washing machine, your stupid roommate going to the hospital because he stuck his hand in a toaster, etc.). Special thanks to our writer Ellie for copying these all down for me because my time management skills have been lacking lately.

A NOTE FROM THE GIRL WHO HANDWROTE ALL THIS STUFF SO I COULD TYPE IT ALL OUT ON THIS PAGE AT 1:00 IN THE MORNING

I would like to make it clear that when I joined the Bullsheet, my only intention was to focus on doing crime reports. Finally, now I get to shine. I’ll admit, I had a lot of power going to my head being able to see all of these reports. I am worried I might be following in James’ footsteps. Also, we have to copy everything down by hand, so you better be grateful. With that said, I am proud to present the fruits of my labor: The Denison Crime Report. -Ellie Schrader
