SHOULD YOU HAVE SWAPPED MAJORS?

Have you ever wondered how you stack up in your department? Have you ever felt like everyone in Phi Beta Kappa is an education major but never had the proof? Do you need a way to justify your 2.4 GPA as an economics major to your parents? I've got your back. This data is all from the 2020-2021 academic year and measures the average GPA of classes taken in a department. This doesn't necessarily indicate the GPA of all students majoring in each department (the English department's GPA includes courses taken by STEM majors, the cinema department's GPA includes the time I got destroyed in intro film aesthetics, etc.), but it's a pretty good indicator. I didn't include any departments that don't have a major attached to them, such as neuroscience or LACS. Here's some key findings:

EUPHORIA EPISODE 2 RECAP

Guys, wasn't episode two of EUPHORIA effing crazy?! I literally can't believe Rue died. Like how are they supposed to finish the season? And that one scene where they all broke into song and dance was really disorienting at first but honestly I loved the surprise. Classic HBO. I've gotta say the most touching moment was when Fez and Nate made up and Fez brought flowers when he visited Nate in the hospital. Maybe enemies to lovers?? Maddy getting detention for throwing her shoes at the teacher was really uncalled for TBH but that's just how it is at Euphoria High. I can't wait to see whether she actually serves it in the next episode because otherwise she will get an in-school suspension!

And HBO really shelled out some dough for the soundtrack. The range of music was so expressive, so vibrant, so.... euphoric. Some of my favorite songs they included were "Bangarang (feat. Sirah)" by Skrillex and "Thanksgiving Theme" by Vince Guaraldi. I was really surprised to hear a Labyrinth song at one point. They should totally keep using his music for the show, I think it really captures the mood well.

MICK DOES NOT KNOW HOW TO WALK LIKE A NORMAL HUMAN PERSON

I was walking to my cinema class on Tuesday ready to start off this wonderful semester. The snow was looking pretty on the trees and around the path I was walking to class. Yet, as I walked down the hill, on the steps near Bryant, I slipped on ice and completely ate shit. I mean I busted my ass. So bad that my friend asked if I was okay instead of laughing. This experience took me back to last year. I slipped on ice 8 times last year. 8 fucking times. The score was Ice-8, Mick-0. I've decided to keep count of my pitiful wipe outs on the bullsheet this semester. I know there will be more.
