TOP 5 APPS TO DOWNLOAD RN TOP 5 APPS TOOO DOWNLOAD!

BBBox:

For only $1.30 you can have access to soooo many different sounds! It's hilarious and literally not at all annoying!! There is also a button box for just Obama voices, but that's an additional $1.30.

USAA SafePilot:

If you want a discount on your insurance, this app is super awesome! It calculates your driving score on two criteria: how much are you on your phone and did you harsh break?! There is ONE minor catch though... It guesses if you're the one driving!

Better just stay off your phone on all car rides from now on, just in case! this does include using direction apps too! Be careful!

Poop Map:

People are tired of seeing posts on Instagram, start posing on poop maps! Rate and caption your poos and keep track of how many countries you dookie in! I have 9 badges and 97 followers on this app, which is practically as famous as you can get (my username does happen to be Jeffree-Star- made it pre-his-cancelation, can't change the name, unfortunately, but I'm sure that's unrelated to the number of followers I have, they're just sometimes really shocked that I'm not in LA or Wyoming)!

Matchington Mansions:

You've seen those weird ads with the grandma, its nothing like those weird ads, I know you want to download it! Word on the street says Emma is on level 2,000 in only 3 months, yay Emma!!

WhattoDU:

No one has this app! Be the first to get it!

THE TYPES OF STUDENTS THAT ARE BACK FROM STUDYING ABROAD

The Stranger

After moving to a foreign country at the beginning of fall last year, and living what feels like a whole separate lifetime, they come back to Denison forgetting who they hung out with. They walk around like they are lost. When you greet them they give you a pre-loaded surface level response like “Hey, how about that weather?”. This person is the most awkward they have ever been in their whole life. To us, they haven’t been gone for that long, but for “the stranger” coming back to Denison is like a 15 year high school reunion. They remember being friends with you, but they just spent an entire lifetime with Barbra and Kyle in Norway. They don’t know who is and who is not their friend anymore. Don’t worry guys, everyone still loves you just the same.

The “Changed” One

We have all met this student. Something about studying abroad made them feel like they are completely different now. This is the largest stereo-type of students that study abroad, but it still happens. No one cares about the huge “life changing” moment that you had while hiking in a different country. The most life changing moment I had last semester was finding out I can put grilled onions on my chicken and rice from slayer grill. Just keep your new view on life for when you are flirting with some random person at lamson.

The Nonchalant One

Did this person even go abroad? They act like traveling all over South America was just another Thursday. You see this person and it is like they never left. They are so chill about studying abroad that you will try your best to get any information about what they did abroad. If you ask “How was studying abroad? What did you learn? Was it cool being in a new place? What did you do?” they respond with a lame response like “It was fun”. These people are mysterious, but in the lamest kind of way.

The Party-er

They just came back from going clubbing every night. Denison is the farthest thing from that experience. This person is having a hard time not being completely smashed drunk and dancing in a discotheque at 10 pm on a tuesday. They have a cigarette addiction because they thought that smoking didn’t count when they were in Europe. Nicotine works the same way everywhere.
