Guess who’s back??? Did you miss me?? You already know the drill. I’ve been listening to an album every day. This is March! A very lucky month, can’t remember what I did, but I’m sure it was great.

Top 5: March (average score: 6.5)

PSYCHODRAMA - Dave

Favorite Song: Screwface Capital

SANTAN DAVEEEEE!! One of my favorite UK rap albums and Dave is just too good. I would say that Dave’s two greatest abilities are his delivery and his wordplay...especially in Screwface Capital. “Man don’t really want to walk to the shop, or jump on the train, cause the ends got tension. One eye on my opps, two eyes on my friends, cause at least with my opps, man knows their intentions..” Remember that one.

To Be Eaten Alive - Mariah the Scientist

Favorite Song: Lovesick

I really liked this album.

Nothing was the Same - Drake

Favorite Song: Furthest Thing

I personally think this is one of Drake’s BEST albums. Tuscan Leather is probably his best intro. Started from the Bottom is what it is. Worst Behavior is in my top 10 Drake songs. Drake said he wanted Hold On We’re Going Home to become a wedding song and I will definitely be playing it at my wedding.

Shadowglow - Flipturn

Favorite Song: Space Cowboy

This entire album is such a vibe. I wish I could just lay out on the intramural fields and listen to this album over and over again. It was so hard to pick a favorite song, but I had to go with Space Cowboy. YEEEEHAWWWWW

WE DON’T TRUST YOU - Metro Boomin & Future

Favorite Song: Like That

The album and song that started the Kendrick v Drake beef...what a time this was. I particularly like this song because I am a HUGE fan of cheesecake. One of the best desserts of all time. And because Future likes cheese-cake, and I like cheesecake...I had to rate the album highly.

STAFF BOX? MORE LIKE
OVERSTAFFED BOX!

Carter Seipel,
Can only be funny 19
times in one sitting

Take a second and look right below this article. See that? At the bottom of the sheet? Look at that staff box! It looks like it went through a growth spurt! It’s slightly taller and full of words. I can’t stand it.

As an editor, it is my job to fill in the staff box with something funny, but I really don’t like doing that job. I struggled back in yesteryear when it was only 14 names long. Now I have to be funny 20 times?! Impossible.

Unfortunately, everyone in that box is too qualified to be kicked out. So, prepare yourself for a lot of repetition in your Thursday Bullsheets’ Staff Boxes!
