

THE BULLSHEET

The Bullsheet, a forum for news, humor, and community dialogue, is funded by DCGA, recycles, and is printed each day that classes are in session. Submissions must be sent before our editors shamble into the office for next day publication via email to: bullsheet@denison.edu. Submissions herein solely reflect the opinions of the authors.

HAVE YOU HEARD?

Lady Donationdown, Gossip Journalist

I WANT YOU

To Donate All Your Money

Seriously Shawty, Do It

Dear Readers, Have You Heard?

Singer and Songwriter Billie Eilish, known for her unique voice and being my absolute favorite famous person ever, recently won a Wall Street Journal Innovator Award. In her acceptance speech, in a room full of America's most infamous wealth hoarders, she encouraged everyone to donate their money to charity:

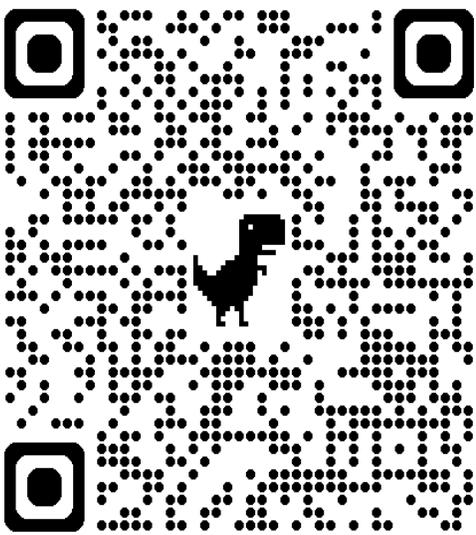

“If you're a billionaire, why are you a billionaire? No hate, but yeah, give your money away shawties” -Billie Eilish

She then announced she'd be donating 11.5 million dollars to organizations focussed on food equity, climate justice, and reducing carbon pollution. How very bold of her, we love calling out old, bald men on how terrible and useless they are. We at the Bullsheet want to stand in solidarity with Ms. Eilish, but unfortunately, we have absolutely no money. Really, its bad, we have to beg the university for money to print pictures. So instead, we pledge to donate 11.5 million more jokes to the daily Bullsheet. No promises they'll be good, “quantity over quality” as I always say.

Your favorite gossip spreader,
Definitely not Aiyana ;)

ADVICE. ANY KIND. ANY TIME.

*the magical oracle,
giver of truth*

You heard it here first. The Bullsheet's first ever advice column is now at your fingertips.

Should I skip class today? Do all of my friends secretly hate me? Will I get a job after graduation? Does he like me back? Do I have thyroid disease?

You have questions. The Bullsheet has answers.
