

Edited last night by:

LEAH

Delivered this morning by:

ANNA

February 11th, 2026

GRANVILLE'S "BUSINESS CASUAL" PUBLICATION

Vol. XLV, No. 86

INTERVIEW GUIDE

Leah,
career coach

Are you preparing for a career? Looking for a summer internship? Taking some time off from education this semester to focus on networking? I've compiled a 2026 guide for you to nail your next interview and land any job.

Rule #1 Ask Great Questions

Remember the goal in asking questions is to stand out, push the boundaries and get into the nitty gritty. You want to know how a company deals with adversary and misconduct before working there. Be sure to ask the hard hitting questions. Here are some examples.

1. How much will you pay me?
2. Which Superbowl Halftime show did you watch?
3. Is that your real nose?
4. Be honest, is anyone in your company in the Epstein files?
5. Can you endorse me on linked in?
6. Do you think I'm Hot?
7. Joe Biden. Real or Fake?
8. Did you find my nudes when you did a background check?
9. Do you use AI?
10. Have you used AI?
11. Will you use AI?
12. When will you use AI?
13. Is it chill if I take my bra off?
13. Did I get the job?

Rule#2 Avoid and Evade

Ask yourself, WWMSD? What Would Marty Supreme Do? Believe you are legit. Always keep the ball in your own court. Never let them know your next move. If they ask a question you don't know how to answer, simply respond with "If you wanted to know you should have googled me before this" or offer to sing a song. I find that the national anthem works best. Remember this is your interview, it's about what YOU want to do and talk about. When in doubt ask questions that demonstrate media knowledge and literacy, ex: can I quiz you on ocean facts?

Note: have some facts prepared in the unlikely event that they say yes.

Rule #3 Dress to impress

What you wear and how you present yourself is important. In our parents days, employers wanted you to appear clean cut and professional. This is no longer the case. Employers know Gen Z is full of shit and can't take anything seriously. Our education is worth very little and our Instagram reel usage is high. They just want you to appear comfortable and confident. Wear your sweats! This is the age of Zoom! It's important to stand out. Pair

GETTING PRETTY SICK OF IT ALL

Last week my instagram feed was a healthy balance of Bad Bunny, biscoff cookie recipies, cute animals and various content on Korea. This week it is about 75% Bad Bunny edits, but the rest is all Epstein files and content on things happening in Japan. I'm not sure what this says about me and the world, but I've decided its time for me to start thinking about if I want to spend the rest of my life in America or if I should relocate while I can. That being said, I've made a short list of why the US sucks and Japan sounds kinda awesome. More countries to come.

UNITED STATES

1. The job market sucks
2. AI is taking over
3. Public transportation is non existant and travel is insanely expensive
- 4.

JAPAN

1. Japan has opened a bar for people who are quitting their jobs to get free drinks
2. A Cafe in Japan is hiring paralysed people to control robots so they can make an income.
3. Its cheaper to fly to Tokyo to visit Disney than to go to Orlando
- 4.

Staff "Countries" Box

Carter "Cambodia" Seipel, Managing Editor
Christine "Canada" Trueh, Head Writer
Leah "Latvia" Jackson, Senior Editor
Lindsey "Lithuania" George, Sophomore Editor
William "Wuttemberg" Eddleman, Sophomore Editor
Lucy "Luxembourg" Dale, Foreign Correspondant
Elliot "Ecuador" Harpham, Senior Writer
Eleanor "Ethiopia" Mason, Foreign Correspondant
Lucy "Lebanon" Hollingsworth-Hays, Sophomore Writer
Anna "Australia" Crum, Sophomore Writer
Lilly "Liberia" Andrews, Freshman Writer
Lily "Liechtenstein" Reaser, Freshman Writer
Aiyana "Armenia" Harrison, Freshman Writer
Meredith "Michigan" Havre, Freshman Writer

