

THE STAFF'S SUBMISSION FOR THE OFF-CAMPUS PHOTO CONTEST

Christine and Carter, world travelers

In an effort to promote students leaving Denison, Off campus Studies is hosting a photo contest showing off all those awesome pictures people have taken while abroad. The top ten finalists have been selected and you can vote for your favorite in Burton Morgan room 417 until Monday, March 3rd! Unfortunately, the Bullsheet Bull's photos didn't make the top ten. They didn't even make the top 25! Which is crazy because that little guy has been on some big adventures...

Bullshark: Bull meets shark
"There's some-fin about you."

Hump Day
"This makes me want a cigarette."

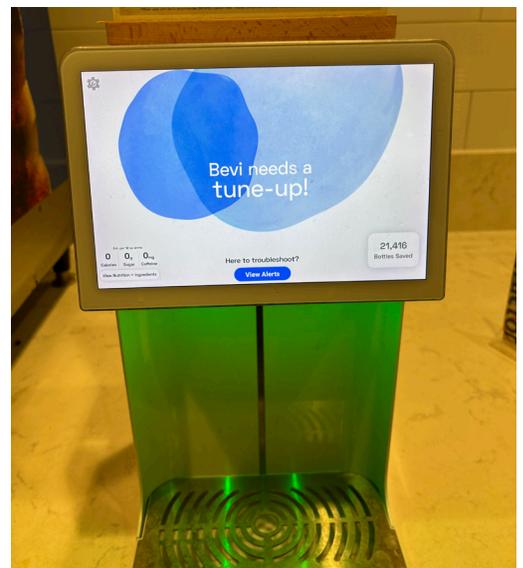

Don't Forget Your Parachute
"Redbull gives you wiiings"

THE WORSE MEAL I EVER HAD ON THIS CAMPUS

Carter, also needs a tune-up

The food? Doesn't matter. What is important is that the Bevi broke. How can I even consider swallowing my chewed up food without a nice delicious glass of slightly lemon flavored water waiting for me after each bite? That's why after each bite, I got up and checked on the Bevi machine. Unfortunately, the Bevi showed no signs of improving. The screen remained frozen on a screen declaring that our beloved Bevi needed a "tune-up."

How can you possibly tune-up a machine that's already perfect? I assume this is a situation similar to a printer that has run out of yellow ink, which of course renders the entire machine useless. But how can the hands of a mortal fix a heaven-sent machine like the Bevi?

This is the question that I tried to answer. How? By crouching under a booth inside of Curtis to see who would come by to work on the Bevi. Denison sent their best! NASA rocket scientists, mechanics, priests, chemists, the entire SIPS staff, a student employee lifeguard, and Buzzy himself came by to tinker on the Bevi machine, but alas, none could solve the Bevi crisis. Campus was already feeling the dangerous effects of no cucumber water with extra vitamins. Hope seemed completely lost, but then, at last, a hero emerged. A janitor (with a striking resemblance to a young Matt Damon) plugged the Bevi back in.

It was a plan just crazy enough to work! The tune-up was no longer needed, and artificial pomegranate water began flowing from the machine once more. And thus, peace was restored to our campus.

INVESTMENT CLUB... YOU BETTER INVEST IN A LAWYER

Bullsheel's
legal team

It's come to our attention, that Denison has an investment club. Wow!

When we decided to look into the club (on WhattoDu), we found out that not only do they invest, but they also invest in plagiarism!!

We were so offended, that we hired a lawyer, a graphic design logo expert (they had some choice words for you), and a private investigator.

Below are the Private investigator's findings, these results will shock you!

Denison University Investment Club invests in...

1. Sports gambling
2. mints (it is in their name after all...)
3. private parking spaces
4. shark tooth necklaces
5. Bevi fountains (terrible)
6. Tesla
7. GLP-1
8. The Denisonian (no shock here)

As you can see... awful investments all around, which makes the fact they are using our mascot WORSE. We don't want to be associated with you anymore! Your cease and desist letter will arrive in 2-4 business days. Lawyer up! The Bull is and forever will be ours!
