

Edited last night by:

Linds

Delivered this morning by:

Mer

February 5th, 2026

GRANVILLE'S "MOST LOVED" PUBLICATION

Vol. XLV, No. 82

LOVE IS IN THE AIR

Lindsey George,
Loves Pink and Red Together

Hey readers! Next weekend is the highly anticipated day for couples across the world. Did you forget? Are you at a loss for sweet, romantic ideas for your partner? Are you simply uncreative, and turning to The Bullsheet for help? In any case, I'm here for you. Below, I have compiled some creative ideas for you to execute for your significant other next weekend. Never fear, your idea girl is here (more than a week in advance! You have PLENTY of time to pull any of these together). Feel free to take credit for my romantic genius. And have a safe, happy Heart Day!

"Will you 'bee' mine?" OR "You're sweet as honey!"

This should, of course, be accompanied by a thoughtful and generous gift of a real bee hive, bees included, and a beekeeper's suit for sting protection. This is perfect for your nature-oriented SO, and will be a source of good quality honey for ages. Win-win!

"We just click"

What else clicks? Legos! Write a nice card and tape it to an intricate box of legos, ideally a niche nerdy set that YOU are really excited about. Your SO loves the Death Star too, right? Right...?!

"You stole a 'pizza' my heart"

Frozen pizza for dinner! Who needs to go out to a romantic, candlelight meal?! We have an oven and pizza bagels at home.

"I love you from my head to-ma-toes"

Show up at their door with an ungodly amount of tomatoes. Cherry, roma, rainbow, jubilee, san marzano, Cherokee, better boy, campari, all of 'em. Make it a bouquet while you're at it! Who wouldn't rather have a plethora of tomatoes than red roses?

"You are o-fish-ially awesome!"

Some people might think Swedish Fish or Scandinavian Swimmers would be best for this valentine, but I think a real fish would be best. Shared custody of a goldfish? No problem! Who wouldn't love a fishbowl on their dorm room desk?!

"Life would be 'ruff' without you"

A puppy is a FANTASTIC valentine's day gift, especially for a college student. Your SO will be bursting with joy, and so will their roommate!

"You're super hot"

Siracha. Buffalo chicken wings. Jalapeños. Flamin' hot cheetos. Curry. Have at it. Go crazy. Your valentine is hot, and so is the food you bought them (pro tip, throw a gallon of milk in there, too)

KEEP READING FOR MORE!

LOVE IS IN THE AIR (CON'T)

“There’s nobody ‘butter’ for me than you”

I happen to know that IGA has a pretty good butter selection. Spoil your SO. Salted, unsalted. Land ‘O Lakes, Kerrigold. Show them that life really is “butter” with them. One can never have too much butter.

“I love you ‘chair-y’ much”

You read that right. A solid, four-legged, sturdy wooden chair is a wonderful valentine’s day gift. It shows that you support them. Duh.

Anyway, I hope this helps! I have confidence that these romantic gestures will have your SO weak in the knees, and your relationship will be stronger than ever. Happy Valentine’s Day, my lovely readers! I love you all!

FREE PHILLY!

Mars Harmon,
Student Submission

Happy Groundhog’s Day! ... Or is it?

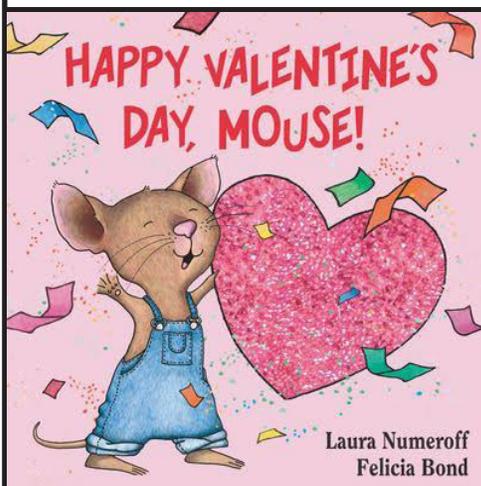

Groundhog’s day is arguably the most important, most influential holiday that America has. Why? Well that is for Phil to know and for us mere humans to experience. Phil, full name Punxatawney Phil, is the ground hog who hails from Gobblers Knob Pennsylvania. He came out this week on February 2nd at 7:25 and his poem was read. Yes, a poem. This ground hog not only is over 139 years old, but he has quite the knack for poetry too. So what did the mystical magical ground hog predict? Well... as boos were heard from the large crowd, Phil saw his shadow. When THE Punxatawney Phil sees his shadow that means six more weeks of winter. But I’m not too sure about that.

The Conspiracy

My name is Mars Harmon, a groundhog enthusiast (as of 2024), and while I do believe in the great powers of Phil, I have my questions about The Inner Circle. The inner circle of Phil consists of 15 men, 1 woman and a ground hog (that being Phil himself). They are the “keepers” of Phil, both feeding and taking care of him. They each have a special name, including “O-zone,” “Moonshine,” and my favorite, “Shingle Shaker.” But why are there so many? How does a groundhog with such extraordinary capabilities need 15 men and 1 woman to help him? What the fuck is a “Shingle Shaker?” Well the answer to this question lies in one single answer. Phil has been hognapped.

This hognapping explains everything. From the sadness in Phil’s eyes to the poor-etry that Phil has been writing. I think Philly is calling for help. So I call upon you, dear reader. Put down your Gobbler’s Knob and scan this QR code to learn more about our cause.

-Mars Harmon

Staff “holidays” Box

Carter “President’s Day” Seipel, Managing Editor
Christine “New Year’s Day” Trueh, Head Writer
Leah “Thanksgiving” Jackson, Senior Editor
Lindsey “Valentine’s Day” George, Sophomore Editor
William “Halloween” Eddleman, Sophomore EditorIm
Lucy “Darwin Day” Dale, Foreign Correspondant
Elliot “Mother’s Day” Harpham, Senior Writer
Eleanor “April Fools Day” Mason, Foreign Correspondant
Lucy “Flag Day” Hollingsworth-Hays, Sophomore Writer
Anna “Arbor Day” Crum, Sophomore Writer
Lilly “Labor Day” Andrews, Freshman Writer
Lily “Earth Day” Reaser, Freshman Writer
Aiyana “National Day of Reason” Harrison, Freshman Writer
Meredith “Winter Solstice” Havre, Freshman Writer

