THE WORST DRAG QUEEN ON RUPAUL'S DRAG RACE

Lilly Andrews,
slays

I know what you're probably thinking. There are so many queens on Drag Race—and a lot of them really suck. How can only one be "the worst?"

Well, there can be. I have credentials btw. I used to be able to get 100% on a Sporcle quiz called "Name every queen on Rupaul's Drag Race." The muscle's sore, so I'd probably get 85% these days. Still.

I was rewatching season 9 of Rupaul's Drag Race, and I was only just starting to remember how good this season was. I love Sasha and Valentina and Aja and pretty much everyone there. But then I see this evil bitch enter the werkroom and I'm immediately pissed.

Eureka O'Hara is such a nuisance on this earth. Why does she wear a fucking bread loaf as a wig for EVERY OUTFIT??? I'm sick of it and I'm only on ep 1. What really bothered me was how she wore the damn ugly loaf wig for a recreation of a LADY GAGA look. Gaga would never put that abomination on her head. Jesus.

Besides being incredibly unfashionable (on a fashion television show, mind you), she has the audacity to lie straight to Lady Gaga's face. When Ms. Gaga enters the werkroom and rightfully mogs every bitch there, Eureka starts crying. She spins this tale about how Lady Gaga saved her life and how she wouldn't be alive if it weren't for Mother Monster. It's super sappy and emotional and the editors cue that godawful sentimental music that I personally think has no place in a show like Drag Race, but whatever. It's supposed to be this wonderful, beautiful moment that shows resilience and love and shit like that but it's totally tainted for me. It's so fucked up because years later, Eureka said in an interview that she totally made up all of that story. None of it was true; she wasn't even a Lady Gaga fan. So she just lied???? For fun?? And attention???? I think she should have publicly #RuPaulogized to Gaga after that fiasco. But no, she went on to serve 2 ugly looks and place SAFE. If anyone's allergic to serving, it's definitely her.

I don't really care about Eureka in the current day, but in 2016, GOD she was annoying. I'm honestly just really hung up on her terrible wigs. Who let that shit slide

HM: Mimi Imfurst is pretty bad, but at least she got Rupaul to say "Drag is not a contact sport" & was the subject of the All Stars 1 Untucked fight.

WILLIAM AND LEAH FEUD: TOKYO DRIFT

William Eddleman,
The Most Hetero

Hi Leah! Your delayed, typo-ridden word salad was a delight to read! To everyone else: yeah, we know you're reading these even though we asked you not to. Whatever. Enjoy.

Alright, let's go through your points. I'm getting battle weary at this point. Perhaps a ceasefire would benefit us. Until then, I soldier on, heterosexually (as all soldiers throughout history have been).

1. Erm, feminism is for everyone, sweaty. Saying I can't be one because of my gender is low-key problematic. Hope this helps! (Also, "eat, sleep, and breathe WOMAN" is a great choice of words. I bet you do).

2. I COULD name a woman (every woman, actually) but I think I should let them speak for themselves, don't you? Also, what do you even know about heretics bro? Don't start with me about heretics.

3. What's that supposed to mean?

4. My Brokeback Mountain tag wasn't tiny, it was at least average.

5. Riiiiight

6. Suuurreee

7. Yeah I bet you were glued to the screen.

8. "Army of bisexual women and their boyfriends." Girl, it's a liberal arts school. Throw a rock in any direction, it'll hit a bisexual woman with some random ass boyfriend. You ain't special. Also, I went to the Lesbian Subaru Dealership in Portland and everyone knew you, actually.

Furthermore, I have zero issue with gay people. I'm just exclusively attracted to women (especially the one in the picture on the front page, for some reason).

Also, don't be too sure about your father's feelings on gayness. Tell him I said hi.

All joking aside, I hope you're enjoying this silly feud as much as I am.

-William

ERICA ELEFSON RECITAL PUTS EVERY OTHER RECITAL TO SHAME

William Eddleman,
Hi Dr. F

I always knew percussionists were the best.

Erica's recital was seriously freaking awesome. And I got mentioned in the program! Feels like a big honor. There was heart, there was amazing drumming/malleting, and there was TAP DANCING??? Seriously, if you weren't there, what are you even doing with your life?

Truly, percussionists like us are built different. We're indestructably strong from the Sisyphean task of moving heavy percussion equipment around all the time. We're not just on time, we ARE the time. We're the only musicians that can say that beating our instruments up with sticks is a good idea. Seriously, could your fragile wind or string instruments handle that? Don't think so. Once we percussionists learn to count higher than 4, it's over for the rest of you.

On a completely unrelated note, my professor/percussion teacher/advisor, Dr. Fragiskatos, is a big fan of the Bull-sheet! He's been asking me to bring him one that I worked on for a while now. What a coincidence that that happens to be the day that I sing the praises of percussionists! Thanks for reading the Sheet. We welcome fans from the student body, faculty, alumni, and anyone else! Anyone can be a Sheethead!
